During this past year this committee have distributed among ex-service men in this county $600 in scholarships in correspondence courses in business schools and colleges. Every ex-service man who is interested in this matter is urged to see some member of the committee named above.

A CAREER OF SERVICE ENDED

He was the founder of Wauseon Boy Scout organization; beginning with the Joes' Boys Brotherhood he worked with patience and persistence until he had built up among these Wauseon lads an organization of one hundred or more boys pledged to the highest ideals of life and day by day crystallizing those ideals in practice.

It is impossible to estimate the benefit and value of the service Mr. Wauseon has given or to measure the influence for good that he has exerted upon the lives of the boys themselves.

This much can be safely said; No one person in the history of Wauseon has performed a greater service, of more far reaching and lasting benefit to the boys of this community than has Charles J. Ives and no one person as won the love and respect of more of the boys of Wauseon than he.

Funeral services under the auspices of Defiance Commandry Knights Templars were held at the Methodist Church Thursday afternoon, December 2nd and interment made at Fayette.

Lesson in OPTOMETRY

Is there a class of people who are especially subject to eye strain?

Yes, those who do near work, such as reading, sewing or desk work, naturally are liable to strain their eyes.

Is it possible for a person whose eyes are normal to have eye strain?

Yes, the class referred to above, constant readers, or writers or those whose work requires constant near use of the eyes, often have eye strain even though their eyes are normal.

What relief has Optometry to offer to those who have a normal sight, yet who suffer from eye strain by reason of the excessive near work they do?

Glasses can be prescribed for near use only, and the wearing of such would help their eyes greatly and prevent the strain.
